About the Workshop

In line with the University Grants Commission's (UGC) emphasis on creating awareness about publication ethics and publication misconduct, this workshop intends to enhance the publication output of the university by imparting hands-on training to equip, up-skill and train both the faculty and research scholars on open access resources and open publishing, familiarise the participants on bibliographic databases, enhance the utilization of e-resources. Upskill their academic writing using Grammarly, fasten up their referencing managing skills using Zotero/Mendeley, and finally educate them on aspects relating to online academic identities and plagiarism.
