About the University

Nagaland University, the 13th Central University and the only Central University in Nagaland, was established in 1989. Nagaland University, Kohima Campus, is located at Meriema and is widely regarded as an academically strong, culturally vibrant, and peaceful academic centre of excellence with the typical logistical and infrastructure nuances of a hill-station central university. Engaging yourself in any academic endeavour here provides you with a lived experience of age-old tribal tradition and honest friendship with nature and community. So, don't waste time. Come and join our Research Methodology course customised by our experienced professionals.
